Voter ID Requirements for In-Person Voting

No updates required since June 7, 2024

Background

In a majority of states, voters show some form of identification when casting their ballot in-person. States that do not require some form of ID typically ask for a signature or other identifying information to confirm the voter’s eligibility. Our scoring gives negative points to states that have unnecessarily strict identification requirements or procedures in place that create barriers for eligible voters who may not be able to obtain a specific form of required ID. These overly strict procedures usually require very limited forms of ID and/or burdensome additional steps to be taken by the voter after Election Day to ensure their vote is counted. These laws do not apply to mail/absentee voting, or first-time voters who did not provide ID when registering to vote by mail. For more information please contact your local election official.

Scoring

- No ID required, but voter eligibility is verified through other means, 1 point
- Non-strict, non-photo ID, 1 point.
- Non-strict, photo ID, ½ point
- Strict, non-photo ID, -1/2 point
- Strict photo ID, -1 point
